To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write this employment certificate letter for GABRIEL ALEJANDRO CARCAMO MARAMBIO, who worked at Experian Services Chile S.A. from May 2013 to April 2025, and his last position at the company was Senior Software Development Engineer. During his time with us, Gabriel proved to be a high contributor, in several key areas. Below is a detailed list of his main responsibilities:

- Main tasks focused on development, correction, calibration, validation, audit, and deployment of models throughout different systems and platforms (mainframe, distributed AIX/Linux, AWS), ensuring the behavior, performance, and delivery on each one of them.

- Technically support portfolio of key financial clients, including Chase, Citi, and Bank of America by providing strategic direction and leadership to re-engineering client business processes designed to gain internal efficiencies, enhance user experiences, and realize business opportunities.

- Develop system performance improvements by conducting analysis to enhance client operational efficiencies by adopting engineering transformation technologies for 300M+ end users.

- Guide and mentor team of engineers and technicians responsible for systems development, product support initiatives, continuous information system support, and exceptional client service with every transaction.

- Provide ongoing support to key accounts by facilitating development of improvement strategies, including project risk mitigation, cost-benefit analysis reporting, and process mapping techniques.

- Foster strategic relationships with internal and external partners to promote advancement of agile environments, DevOps, and quality engineering practices to improve customer experiences, operation efficiencies, and reduce costs.

- Serve as lead developer for the Property Attributes initiative, architecting a new modular framework to streamline creation, modification, packaging, and delivery of model features. This solution empowered developers and data scientists to efficiently build and deploy models via an internal portal, significantly accelerating feature development cycles.

- Led development of next-generation modeling capabilities, enabling the integration of advanced data structures and multi-level aggregations. This initiative expanded modeling potential beyond traditional consumer and business data, supporting a broader range of datasets and complex aggregation hierarchies for enhanced analytical flexibility.

- Joined and later led the committee for the company's High Potential Employee Program, spearheading a full redesign of the program framework—including workshops, mentor engagement structure, and evaluation methodology. Successfully delivered a scalable and sustainable model adopted as the standard for future program cycles.

- Organized and coordinated company-wide blood donation campaigns over two consecutive years prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, fostering community engagement and promoting a culture of social responsibility across the organization.

We are confident that Gabriel will be a valuable asset to any organization and will demonstrate the same level of commitment and dedication that he showed at Experian Services Chile S.A.

Sincerely,
